Home

Welcome to 259 Lucia Way, a detached Mission Point residence with a family-style floor plan made for everyday living. Vaulted ceilings create a lofty first impression, while oversized windows and wide-plank Camden Oak luxury vinyl flooring add warmth throughout. The main level features a living room that flows to an open kitchen and family room overlooking a stunning backyard and picturesque hillside outlook. Custom paint, central air with a Honeywell smart thermostat, and on-trend finishes make the home feel fresh, cohesive, and ready to enjoy.

Kitchen and Bathrooms

The remodeled kitchen brings a crisp, contemporary center to the home, with quartzite countertops, soft-close cabinetry, recessed lighting, and updated appliances. Its open placement beside the family room keeps cooking, gathering, and backyard living connected in one practical line of sight. All three bathrooms have also been remodeled with new vanities, counters, mirrors, lighting, and plumbing fixtures, giving the home a consistent pride-of-ownership feel throughout. A two-car garage with epoxy flooring and overhead storage adds the kind of functional polish that supports everyday living.

Backyard

The oversized backyard is one of the home's defining features, offering a more open and usable feel than many properties in the Mission Point community. An insulated, lighted patio cover with an overhead fan and mounted TV creates a true outdoor room, bridging the family room and yard with shade, comfort, and purpose. The setting feels especially private, with an elevated backyard and limited direct neighbor impact. It is an easy space to imagine weekend dinners, kids playing, pets roaming, and quiet evenings outside.

Community

Mission Point brings resort-style utility to daily life without giving up the comfort of a detached single-family home. The community amenities include a junior Olympic-sized pool heated year-round, spa, clubhouse, fitness center, beautiful park with tot-lot playground, restrooms, pickleball, tennis, basketball, and dog park. For buyers who want a real neighborhood with built-in recreation, this is a meaningful extension of the home itself. It is the kind of setting where family life, fitness, play, and convenience come together.

Neighborhood

Set within Rancho Del Oro, this location offers an easy North Oceanside rhythm with quick access to the coast, daily errands, schools, and regional connections. Hwy 76 is close enough to simplify commuting and beach runs, yet the home sits far enough away to avoid the congestion and noise that can come with major corridors. Nearby destinations include El Camino High School, Scholarship Prep Charter School, Mission San Luis Rey, Starbucks, neighborhood shops and restaurants, and mass-market staples for everyday needs. Camp Pendleton access is also straightforward, making the location especially practical for military, commuting, and coastal North County households.

Lifestyle

Living here is easy: a polished home, a real backyard, community amenities, and a straight shot to the coast. The San Luis Rey River Trail offers a bike-friendly connection to the ocean, while Oceanside Pier, beaches, surf, restaurants, and the harbor are all within an easy drive. Rancho Del Oro offers the quieter residential side of Oceanside, with beach life still part of the routine. Your passport to resort-style amenities and an authentic North County lifestyle.
